

Plainview-Old Bethpage Central School District
106 Washington Avenue
Plainview, New York 11803

June, 2016

Dear parents, guardians, and incoming grade seven students,

Summer reading provides an excellent opportunity for students to continue to enhance literacy skills developed throughout the school year. It is also an opportunity to engage students in reading for fun and at their own level of interest and ability. To this end, the Plainview–Old Bethpage School District is issuing a Summer Reading List to all middle school students.

Please make every effort to read as much as possible over the upcoming summer. It would be helpful to keep track of the titles and authors of books read to share with teachers upon the return of school in September. While we strongly encourage reading multiple titles, students must read one book from the attached list. For the summer of 2016, and in an effort to meet the needs of different styles of learners, students are being given a choice of the type of assessment they can complete to present their understanding and appreciation of their book. They have the option of creating either a book talk video or book talk movie that must be uploaded by (Friday) September 16, 2016. Please consult the following pages in this packet for more details about the requirements and scoring rubrics for this style of assessment. Additionally, students also have the option to complete a more traditional writing assignment crafted by their classroom teacher during the third or fourth week of September. Please be aware that whichever assessment students choose to complete (the book talk video, the book talk movie, or the traditional writing assignment), their score will contribute to their first quarter average. Please find two different optional reading worksheets enclosed which can serve as note-taking resources toward the first quarter assessment. While it is not a formal assignment, it will certainly help to assist students with their reading comprehension and the organization of their thoughts.

The Middle School teachers and librarians developed a diverse list from titles recommended by the American Library Association, professional journals, and the librarians at our local public library. We invite parents and guardians to carefully review the list in an effort to guide children in making appropriate selections in terms of text difficulty as well as the subject matter discussed. While a text might be appropriate in terms of its complexity, some books might address themes that some families see as too mature for a certain age group. If a student is not able to find an acceptable title from the grade-level list due to content or text complexity, please reach out to Jeffrey Yagaloff at jyagaloff@pobschools.org so an alternate plan can be set in advance of the opening of the school year.

The Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library has received copies of our Summer Reading Lists and will be happy to help you select books. Public libraries provide a great opportunity to use computers, search the Internet, and socialize with peers. In addition, a link will be provided on the district's website to connect you with the 2016 statewide summer reading program, "On Your Mark, Get Set... Read!" On behalf of the Plainview-Old Bethpage schools, we wish you a healthy and enjoyable summer. Please enjoy frequent visits to libraries and book stores. Make literacy, in all of its aspects, a part of the time you spend together this summer.

Summer Reading 2016 / Book Talk Video Project

- A book talk video is an attention grabbing presentation created to catch the audience's attention and persuade them to read the book that you have read. In a sense, you need to be both a salesperson and a performer.
- A book talk movie includes the same required content but, instead of students appearing in the video, they can deliver the same message using various forms of media such as images, video, audio, and voice-overs.

Length of Book Talk Video or Movie:

- Three to four minutes

Procedures:

- Your book talk video or movie should include the following elements:
 - Introduce the book
 - Show the book and share with your audience its title, author, publication date, and genre.
 - Provide a brief summary of the book that includes telling:
 - The setting of the book
 - Who the main characters are
 - A brief plot summary including the central conflict
 - You cannot reveal the conflict's resolution because that would take the joy away from a potential reader of the book.
 - The theme or message of the book
 - Share what you believe the author wants readers to take away from the experience of reading the book.
 - Conclusion / Recommendation
 - Tell the audience if you would recommend the book or not and provide reasons why or why not
 - Explain the type of reader this book would appeal to

General tips:

- Remember to be responsible and keep your presentation appropriate to a school setting.
- You should be comfortable enough with your presentation that you do not need to read directly from note cards.
- Present with enthusiasm and speak in a loud, clear, and slow enough manner so you can be easily understood
- If you are presenting using the video format, maintain eye contact with your audience

Samples:

- To get some inspiration, feel free to visit the following links to see some sample videos:
 - http://www.schooltube.com/channel/scholastic_booktalks/
 - <http://www.booktrailersforreaders.com/>

Submission:

- A Google Classroom has been set up for you to upload your video to. Submit your presentation using the following steps:
 - Go to classroom.google.com
 - Log in to your POB GAFE account if needed
 - Username = [first initial][last name]@pobschools.org
 - Password = User specific
 - Navigate to upper right corner +
 - Choose JOIN CLASS
 - Enter the proper code that is specific to the grade and school you will be in for the 2016-17 school year:
 - For students entering into 7th grade at Mattlin Middle School: 8ugz1s
 - For students entering into 7th grade at POB Middle School: 98roc7
 - Within the classroom STREAM click OPEN within the “Video Submission” assignment
 - Once open, click on the ATTACHMENT ICON (paperclip) to upload your video submission
- To receive full credit for this project, it must be uploaded by (Friday) September 16, 2016.
- The English Department and librarians will be doing their best to develop an electronic database and bulletin boards in the buildings to provide links to your videos and movies so students in the future can watch your recommendations when trying to decide if they should take out the book that you read!

10 Easy Ways to Get Children to Read this Summer

1. Get your child a library card at your local public library. It's free!
2. Sign your child up for Summer Reading at the local public library and enjoy free programs with fun activities, storytelling, reading contests, crafts and more.
3. Read with your child every day. Take advantage of "waiting" time to share books: on trips, at the doctor's office, in line at the grocery store.
4. Take a basket of books for reading breaks from the sun, water, and sand at the beach, lake, or pool.
5. Read on your own and talk to your child about what you're reading. Families who share reading experiences raise children who read well.
6. Visit the library every week and bring the whole family.
7. Need books in languages other than English? Ask a librarian!
8. Use the closed captioning during TV shows so children see the words as they hear them.
9. Keep a list on the refrigerator of the books everyone has read during the summer.
10. Discover the world by reading books from your local public library. Choose a subject of interest for the entire family, so that every family member can share what they have learned and share ideas.

Summer Reading 2016

This is a note-taking worksheet for you to log information on concerning your reading selection. This is optional and is not the actual assignment your teacher will be giving you in the first quarter. It is a great way for you to record your thoughts during the process of reading as well as immediately after completing your text choice. This can be especially important if you plan on reading your choice very early into the summer because it can serve as a study tool as you prepare for your first quarter assignment.

- What is the title of your selection?
 - _____
- What is the author's name of your selection?
 - _____
- Describe the setting of your selection:
 - What are the key locations where your story takes place? Describe them briefly.
 - _____
 - _____
 - _____
 - _____
 - _____
 - Explain when your story takes place. Does it take place during a certain month, year, season, or time period? Does most of the action occur during day or night? Ask yourself if there is anything of importance concerning this.
 - _____
 - _____
 - _____
 - _____
 - _____

- Describe two major characters and one minor character from your selection.

- Major Character One:

- Name:

- _____

- Describe the physical appearance of this character:

- _____

- _____

- _____

- _____

- Provide a few comments about this character's actions, personality, and what others think of him/her:

- _____

- _____

- _____

- _____

- Major Character Two:

- Name:

- _____

- Describe the physical appearance of this character:

- _____

- _____

- _____

- _____

- Provide a few comments about this character's actions, personality, and what others think of him/her:

- _____

- _____

- _____

- _____

○ Minor Character One:

▪ Name:

▪ _____

▪ Describe the physical appearance of this character:

▪ _____

▪ Provide a few comments about this character's actions, personality, and what others think of him/her:

- The conflict is the major problem that occurs in a story. Stories almost always have an external conflict that exists between the central character and an additional source (for example, person vs. person, person vs. society, person vs. nature) and often have an internal conflict, such as when a character has a “battle” with him/herself over something such as a tough decision.

○ What are the external and internal conflicts in the story that you selected?

- The plot of a story is its basic storyline and it generally follows a classic pattern of development. Reflect on how the plot progresses and summarize each step of its development.

- Exposition (This usually occurs at the very beginning of the story and provides background information and serves to introduce the characters, conflict, and setting):

- ---

- Rising Action (This is the portion of the story when the conflict develops beyond its initial introduction):

- ---

- Climax (This describes the turning point in a story when things change for the better or worse):

- ---

- Falling Action (This concerns the resolution of the conflict when a protagonist often “wins” or “loses” against his/her antagonist. It helps lead the story to its conclusion):

- ---

- Resolution (This serves as the conclusion of a story when conflicts are resolved, creating a sense of normalcy for characters):

- ---

- Themes are topics and broad ideas discussed in a story (for example, relationships, maturity, or freedom) and morals are lessons that readers take away from a story based on the featured characters’ experiences (for example, “Never judge a book by its cover.”).

- What topics are featured in your selection?

- ---

- What lesson about life does the author want you to learn from this story?

- ---
